

USED IT AS A CLUB.

Capt. Joseph G. Waters Says the Voters

KNOW THE BALLOT'S VALUE

And They Are Pounding the Parties Over the Head With It.

Joseph G. Waters, one of the brilliant eccentrics of Kansas politics, takes a philosophical view of the election. He says he was as good a guesser as Breidenbach and has as much political sense as David B. Hill. The defeat of the suffrage amendment, he says, is only temporary, due to the belief that it meant the perpetuation of prohibition.

To a JOURNAL reporter today Mr. Waters said: "The people have got hold of the ballot and they are using it as a club. They gave it to Harrison and elected Cleveland by just such a land slide. They thought the Republicans were responsible for the depression in business. Cleveland and Democracy went in on a tidal wave, and business continued to get worse and worse and they have turned with the club and branded the Democracy."

"And that club they propose to continue to hold and use, and all good people now pray for a return of business, and straight forwardness in government affairs. The Republican party has it in its power to become a centennial as if it will be loyal to the people and honest in administration."

"Dr. Parmenter of New York, deserves the friendship of lovers of good government everywhere."

"The American will never accept another English banquet unless he has no desire to return home again."

"Woman suffrage was the shuttlecock between political battlers. Thirty thousand votes never voted on it one way or the other. It was a political mistake of the women to get it adopted by any party."

"But it is bound, some of these days to carry. James L. King is the only philosopher in Topeka. He told me election day he had voted for that proposition because he believed that it would be the women of Colorado who would save the state to the Republican party. And he was right. They did that thing."

"I heard a good story on David Overmyer today. In a crowd of gentlemen Mr. Overmyer was heard to say that he modestly congratulated himself on having rendered substantial aid in defeating the suffrage amendment. Just then a man approached Mr. Overmyer and suggested that he send Ellis county a banner, as it was the only county in the state he had carried. Mr. Overmyer replied that he believed he would do something for that county to show his appreciation. 'Get up a subscription and get John Martin to head the list,' said some one. A gentleman from Ellis county said he need not be in a hurry to claim any credit for defeating the amendment or to send that county a banner or to get up a subscription, for the only county which Mr. Overmyer had succeeded in carrying, had gone for woman suffrage."

A GOOD ERA COMING.

Eugene Ware Predicts a Bright Future For Kansas.

Says the Atchison Globe: Eugene Ware, the Kansas poet-lawyer, was a caller at the Globe office this morning. "I believe," he said, "that Kansas is on the eve of a new era of good times and good fellows; the election news pleases me very much. Kansas has been losing population since 1887, but during the same time the population of the United States has increased nine millions. A large portion of that increased population is justly coming to Kansas, and we will get a million of it during the coming Republican administration." Mr. Ware is popular as a poet because he does not look like one, and never recites his poetry, although it is the best written in the west.

SCOTT RICE ESCAPED.

One Populist Leaves an Office Out of the Slaughter.

In the turning down of the Populist administration, one man in the state house escaped the slaughter and was elected to an office which he will fill when he retires from the state house next January.

This fortunate man is E. Scott Rice, chief clerk in the office of the secretary of state.

Mr. Rice has been elected county attorney of Smith county, the banner Populist county in the state and he has a clear majority of 90 votes over all the opposition.

Scott Rice should be a happy man to escape from such a wreck.

Colonel Hughes Convalescing.

Colonel J. W. F. Hughes is on Kansas avenue for the first time in two weeks. It was not generally known, but he has been a very sick man and for a time he was not expected to live. His ailment was a stomach disorder. He is only sorry that he missed his vote, but says he feels better than the people at the state house.

WORK OF THE GRAND JURY

Gamblers and Jointers Will Have Their Business Looked Into.

More than one evil-doer in Topeka has lost sleep this week because of the grand jury being in session.

The jury after being "house-hunting" for a day because of lack of available space at the court house, has at last settled down to business in the suite of rooms on the second floor at 415 Kansas avenue, lately occupied by the Shawnee county Republican headquarters. There they sit and have witnesses ushered into their presence, where County Attorney Safford conducts a rigid cross-examination that strikes terror to those reluctant to tell the whole truth.

The first day, yesterday, they made a good start. Fourteen subpoenas were served; and all of them responded. The evidence taken was nearly all relative to the gambling houses that flourished for several months on East Broadway street.

Three local gamblers are known to have skipped town on account of the investigation, and one liquor joint is reported to have left the state temporarily. It is learned on good authority that there are sixteen places of various sorts which the jury will "attend to."

The first official act of the grand jury was to go in a body to the county jail and examine into its sanitary condition, the treatment of prisoners and the quality of food furnished. No report has been made regarding this as yet.

The report will probably be turned in with the first batch of indictments on Saturday, but a juror stated to a JOURNAL reporter that they found everything there as neat as a pin, the prisoners satisfied both with their treatment and the food furnished.

J. A. Hickey, the venerable pioneer sheriff of Shawnee county, now living in Pawnee, has been made a juror of the grand jury. Samuel Kerr, ex-county commissioner, was chosen foreman by the other jurors, and J. O. Butler secretary. There have been a number of changes in the personnel of the jury since the list was last published. The jury is now composed of fifteen men as follows:

James Kerr, foreman; J. O. Butler, secretary; C. P. Holman, Oscar Bischoff, J. L. Beverly, G. J. Groshong, Charles Snyder, D. A. Saloner, James Stewart, J. H. Case, F. J. Beuchner, Thomas Naiswender, Frank Alderson, Joseph Hook and J. E. Jones.

NEW SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY.

It is Organized and Will Hold Its Next Meeting Nov. 14.

A preliminary meeting was held in the rooms of the Academy of Science Wednesday evening by a number of representative citizens for the purpose of organizing a local scientific society. The following persons were present: H. Armstrong, F. H. Ayres, J. W. Beede, J. C. Cooper, E. B. Cowgill, C. M. Culver, Cyrus Gutaris, George D. Hale, W. H. Hornaday, H. E. Horton, T. B. Jennings, J. T. Lovewell, Dr. C. F. Maudsler, Frank Patrick, B. B. Smyth, Dr. A. H. Thompson, Dr. O. A. Tuill.

Letters and words of encouragement and regret were read from President P. McVicar, Messrs. H. R. Hilson, J. Lee Knight, D. E. Merwin, J. B. Quintard, Silver Lake, Mrs. Kate Adams and Mrs. J. H. Hunt.

Dr. A. H. Thompson was selected as temporary chairman and B. B. Smyth temporary secretary.

A committee, consisting of Dr. Maudsler, Judge Guthrie and Mr. Smyth, was appointed to draft a constitution and prepare a programme for the coming year and to present it at the next meeting.

All persons interested in science, desiring to be present at the organization, are invited to attend the next meeting, so that they may be given a place on the programme. It was decided to have no regular fees, but to depend on voluntary contributions.

Mr. J. W. Beede was appointed to prepare a paper for next meeting on the flowering of native plants in Shawnee county.

Next meeting of society is at the same place on Wednesday evening, November 14th.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

An Election Judge Charged With Tampering With the Ballot Box.

GARDEN CITY, Kas., Nov. 8, 1894.

To the Editor of the State Journal: It is charged that the ballot box used at Santa Fe, Haskell county, was opened and votes for J. C. Michaels, Populist candidate for representative, were changed for his opponent.

One of the Republican judges took the box to his home at noon after it had been sealed with a piece of plain paper and in an hour returned with it sealed with ruled paper.

A dispute was at once precipitated when the judges who had sealed it exhibited the fragment of paper that fitted to the original seal and declared the box had been opened.

Examination showed but thirteen votes for Michaels, and twenty men are ready, they claim, to make affidavit of voting for Michaels.

It has created much ill feeling and the partisan judge, S. Rinehart, has been denounced strongly to your correspondent by Republicans of Santa Fe, who admit the opening of the box by Rinehart, but condemn the act.

KILLED BY A KICK.

The Man Found Dead Near Tecumseh was W. M. Remly.

The man found dead to the road near Tecumseh yesterday, proved to be W. M. Remly of North Topeka.

He left Topeka yesterday morning for Anderson county where he had a farm. He was driving a single horse in a buggy and leading two other horses. It is supposed he got out of the buggy for some purpose when he was kicked on the head by one of the horses. On the right side of the head is the imprint of a horse's hoof. The skull was not fractured and Coroner Bailey thinks the force of the kick may have broken the man's neck.

An inquest is being held this afternoon at Knight's morgue.

A son of the dead man, B. H. Remly is employed by the Chicago Lumber company.

Until further notice the secretary of the Associated Charities will transact the business, and meet the friends of the association, at the office of James F. Griffin, 110 East Eighth street.
